

'Our Focus Is Commitment To Your Focus'

RONALD CHARLES BUFORD is a native of Saint Paul and has lived most of his life in the Rondo Community. Ronald attended Purdue University, where he pledged Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, has a degree in Accounting and worked for Ameriprise Financial for 11 years as a Mutual Funds Operations Manager, Project Manager and Business Analyst, post-graduation. Upon his transition from the corporate arena to full time entrepreneurship, Ronald has directly and indirectly contributed to the Twin Cities community and business efforts through numerous endeavors. He is the owner and operator of PR3 eNterprises, LLC – a small but growing Technology, Business & Entertainment Solutions business – that provides consultation and direct service applications to business and individuals. Ronald has been involved with the Rondo Days Celebration & Rondo Avenue, Inc. as a food vendor, several years as a board member and the last 2 years of his involvement as President. He has contracted with KMOJ Radio as an underwriter and Social Media SME for 3 years and has worked closely with several community-based organizations such as Hallie Q Brown, Aurora St. Anthony Development Corp, Rondo Arts & Cultural Business District Project, and the Friendly Streets Initiative.

Ronald's most recent efforts and focus over the last few years is managing the responsibilities as Director of Business Development for Osiris Organization, a non-profit business that provides access to technology, computer training and life-skills coaching that help youth and adults build the knowledge, skills and behaviors they need to achieve personal and career success. He is also the co-creator and moderator of the Buy Back Twin Cities Group (BBTCG) social media platforms that allow Black businesses to share their product and service promotions to the BBTCG followers. Plans for the BBTCG are to provide entrepreneurial business education and training that ultimately leads to stronger business acumen to its members that need the guidance and direction.

Ronald's visions and commitment to excellence is accredited his collegiate and corporate background, and his experiences working with like-minded professionals and community organizations. He has established many friendships and business relationships that have kept him relevant in the Twin Cities Metro area where he continues to strive for a better community, city, and state for which we live. He is honored to contribute his knowledge, experience, and business relationships as a member of the Board for the BOB Rewards Club.
